

Prof. Kondo became a guest professor of Northwest A&F University

On March 26, 2015, Prof. Kondo visited Northwest A&F University and received a guest professor, an honorable appellation from a vice president of Northwest A&F University. It is expected that we may have more tight collaboration in research, education and student exchange between our schools. Northwest A&F University is one of top universities as it was selected as 985 universities (about 40 universities) and 211 universities (about 110 universities). The term of the guest professor is three years from March 2, 2015 to March 1, 2018.
